

Abstract

Certain compositions provide excellent repellency, durability, and soil/stain 10 release properties when applied to a textile or fabric. Such compositions may include: a repellent component, a hydrophilic resin component, a soil release component; and a crosslinking component. A method for applying such compositions to textiles also is disclosed.